(he/him/his)

José is an English solicitor and a licensed attorney in California and Spain, where he has represented some of the world's largest insurance companies in complex (re)insurance matters for over 20 years. He acts for (re)insurance companies in first-party coverage cases involving property damage and business interruption losses at energy, construction, and industrial facilities. José also represents (re)insurers in third-party liability coverage matters, and in subrogation and recovery actions. He handles disputes in the U.S., UK, many countries in Latin America, Spain, and other jurisdictions. José has written and presented on a number of (re)insurance coverage issues.
